

LE MOUVEMENT SOCIAL

■ ■ ■ No. 285 – OCTOBER - DECEMBER 2023

Labour Regimes in China Identity, Institutions and Agency

Eric Florence and Gilles Guiheux Editorial.
Continuity, ruptures and new insights into labour regimes in China (1949-2024)

Claude Chevalyre What happened to coercion?
Categories of work and preconceptions in early-modern Chinese labour history

Chen Yang The construction of workers' social identity in the Maoist era: the case of the Caoyang workers' new village in Shanghai

Joel Andreas, Yao Li and Peiyao Li The staff and workers' congress under three iterations of Chinese corporatism (1949-2022)

Siqi Luo and Chris King-Chi Chan The servicing model and changing pattern of trade union reform: a historical review of the All-China Federation of Trade Unions

Kailing Xie and Ying Huang Becoming a teacher: a gendered risk aversion strategy among aspirational middle-class women in contemporary China

Gilles Guiheux Chinese workers' online videos. A new medium for expressing subjectivities Chloé Froissart and Ke Huang Recreating a social media-based network society: the resistance of Chinese couriers and the regulation of platform capitalism

Eric Florence Struggling over public spaces and scales of visibility: workers' grassroots organisations in twenty-first century China

REVIEWS

ÉDITIONS PRESSES DE SCIENCES PO / PRICE : 17 €

